The Entertainment Business is responsible primarily for the development and operation of games for smartphones. During the current fiscal year, we began deliveries of the new smartphone game title FESTIBATTLE. We conducted anniversary events and collaborative events with popular IP for our Company's IP titles Shironeko Project, Quiz RPG: The World of Mystic Wiz, and Alice Gear Aegis. Despite our focus on providing services that increase user engagement, net sales of smartphone games declined. In addition, there were titles whose service was terminated.

We released the new blockchain game Brilliantcrypto and conducted the Initial Exchange Offering (IEO) (Note) for the crypto-asset Brilliantcrypto Token (BRIL) that can be used in the game. The funds procured by the IEO will be recorded as net sales in stages according to the use of BRIL within the game, however temporary expenses were incurred as a result of advance expenses such as developing and marketing, and for the IEO.

As a result, consolidated net sales and operating loss for the fiscal year under review stood at 24,474 million yen (down 18.2% from previous fiscal year) and 1,302 million yen (compared to an operating profit of 3,320 million yen in previous fiscal year), respectively.

(Note) An Initial Exchange Offering (IEO) is a mechanism for carrying out public offering, sales, and distribution of crypto-assets through a project investigation centered on a crypto-asset exchange, in accordance with the laws of Japan.

In addition, amounts of compensation for individual Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members) for the current fiscal year are made at the discretion of the President and Representative Director per resolution of the Board of Directors, on the grounds that it is suitable to have the President and Representative Director evaluate departments under control of each Director, while taking into account the Company's overall financial results and other such factors. Such authority includes that of calculating amounts of compensation based on decision-making policy on compensation, etc. for Directors, and the President and Representative Director makes decisions on amounts of compensation for individuals, upon having fully taken into account the report of the Nomination and Compensation Advisory Committee established by the Company on a discretionary basis. Kuma's Musical Band Inc. and one other company

Unconsolidated subsidiaries are small in size, and their total assets, net sales, profit or loss (amount corresponding to the Company's equity position), retained earnings (amount corresponding to the Company's equity position) and other indicators have immaterial effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements. In addition, they are not material as a whole. Therefore, they are not included in the scope of consolidation.

- 2. Application of equity method
- (1) Associates accounted for by the equity method

No items to report.

(2) Unconsolidated subsidiaries or associates not accounted for by the equity method

Number of companies not accounted for by the equity method:

Names of companies not accounted for by the equity method:

Kuma's Musical Band Inc. and six other companies

The Next Unicorn Fund, Colopl Next-Rael Fund, and IBK Scale-up Gyeonggi G-Fund were excluded from the scope of the equity method since these funds are accounted for using the gross method (assets, liabilities, revenue and expenses of the funds are recorded in proportion to the Group's investment equity ratio). Kuma's Musical Band Inc. and four other companies are excluded from the scope of the equity method since such exclusion has immaterial effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements in terms of profit or loss (amount corresponding to the Company's equity position), retained earnings (amount corresponding to the Company's equity position) and other indicators, and they are not material as a whole.

3. Fiscal year-end of consolidated subsidiaries

The accounts settlement date of consolidated subsidiary Colopl Next Korea, Inc. is June 30. When creating the consolidated financial statements, the financial statements current as of this settlement date are used. However, for important transactions taking place after the consolidated settlement date, the necessary adjustments for consolidated settlement are carried out.

4. Accounting policies

(1) Standards and methods for valuation of significant assets

1) Securities

Shares of subsidiaries and associates, and investments in capital of subsidiaries and associates Stated at cost using the moving-average method

Available-for-sale securities (including operational investment securities)

Securities other than shares, etc. with no market price

Stated based on the market price, etc. (Unrealized gains and losses are excluded from income and reported in a separate component of net assets. The cost of sales is calculated using the moving-average method.)

Shares, etc. with no market price

Stated mainly at cost using the moving-average method

2) Derivatives

Stated at fair value

3) Inventories

Merchandise

Stated at cost using the moving-average method (determined based on the method of writing down book value in accordance with decreased profitability of assets)

Work in process

Stated at cost determined by the identified cost method (determined based on the method of writing down book value in accordance with decreased profitability of assets)

Supplies

Stated at cost determined by the last cost method (determined based on the method of writing down book value in accordance with decreased profitability of assets)

(2) Depreciation & amortization method for significant depreciable assets

1) Property, plant and equipment

The declining-balance method is applied.

However, facilities attached to buildings and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016, and buildings (excluding facilities attached to buildings) are computed using the straight-line method.

The main economic useful lives are as follows:

Buildings and structures 2 to 22 years Tools, furniture and fixtures 2 to 20 years

2) Intangible assets

The straight-line method is applied.

Software for internal use 3 to 5 years
Other 5 years

(3) Standards for recognition of significant reserves

Allowance for doubtful accounts

For loss caused by uncollectible debt, an estimated amount of irrecoverable debt is provided as an allowance for doubtful accounts based on the historical write-off rate for ordinary receivables, and based on the recoverability of individual cases for specified receivables such as debt with a possibility of default.

Provision for business restructuring

We recorded the expected amount to be needed in preparation for the expenses resulting from business restructuring.

(4) Standards for recognition of significant revenues and expenses

The Group recognizes revenues based on the following five-step model.

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

Revenue recognition standards for each main revenue classification are as follows. The amounts of consideration promised are generally received within one year and do not include significant financing components.

1) Revenue from user charges

The Group offers smartphone games. While providing games to users for free, the Group provides the items used in these games for value. For these services, the Group judges that its performance obligations are satisfied when providing the services set forth for each item while users, or its customers, play games using the items obtained by consuming their currency in value. Therefore, the Group estimates the usage period of customers and recognizes revenue over such usage periods.

2) Revenue from revenue sharing

The Group collaborates with other companies to develop and operate smartphone games. For these services, the Group judges that its performance obligations are satisfied when it provides services such as development and operations to its client companies. Therefore, the Group recognizes revenue upon completion of relevant service provisions. In addition, the Group measures the consideration received from customers according to the amount of user charges.

(5) Accounting policy for translation of significant foreign currency assets or liabilities into Japanese yen

Monetary receivables and payables in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese yen at the spot exchange rate prevailing as of the consolidated balance sheet date, and translation differences are accounted for as profit or loss. Assets and liabilities of foreign associates are translated into Japanese yen at the spot rate of foreign exchange as of the end of the fiscal term of each company. Revenues and expenses of them are translated into Japanese yen at the average rate during the term of each company. The resulting exchange differences have been recorded as foreign currency translation adjustment in net assets.

(6) Accounting procedures related to investments in capital for the investment partnership

In conjunction with accounting procedures related to investments in capital for the investment partnership managed and operated by the Group, the Company provides the investment partnership's assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses in proportion to the Group's investment ratio.

Notes on Accounting Estimates

(Recoverability of deferred tax assets)

- (1) Amounts recorded in the consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year under review Deferred tax assets 124 million yen
- (2) Information on the content of significant accounting estimates for identified items

 Deferred tax assets are recorded for future deductible temporary difference for which it is considered that taxable income based on a future profit plan can be secured sufficiently and that it has recoverability.

 Since recoverability of deferred tax assets relies on an estimate of future taxable income, if any change occurs in conditions and assumptions on which the estimate is based, the amounts of deferred tax assets and income taxes deferred may be affected significantly in the consolidated financial statements for the following fiscal year.

 In the estimation of a future profit plan, The Group refers to past records and uses the gradual decrease ratio of net sales of existing games and net sales after service launch of new games to make estimates.

Notes on Correction of Errors

During the current fiscal year, it was discovered that there was an error in the calculations when incorporating the share of comprehensive income of investment profit and loss for the investment funds of the Group in a past fiscal year, and that excessive net sales had been recorded. An error was also identified in calculation of the Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition at a consolidated subsidiary of the Company, and it was discovered that an inaccurately small cost of sales had been recorded. This error has been corrected.

The cumulative effects of these error corrections have been applied to the book value of net assets at the beginning of the current fiscal year.

As a result, in the balance at beginning of period in the consolidated statement of changes in equity, retained earnings were reduced by 147 million yen, and valuation difference on available-for-sale securities was reduced by 26 million yen.

2) Details of financial instruments and associated risks

Accounts receivable - trade, which are operating receivables, are exposed to credit risks of customers.

Operational investment securities and investment securities mainly consist of shares and bonds, etc., each of which are exposed to the issuer's credit risk, the risk of interest rate fluctuations and the risk of market price fluctuations

Shares of subsidiaries and associates, and investments in capital of subsidiaries and associates are not exposed to the risk of market price fluctuations, since these securities are not measured at fair value.

Accounts payable - other and income taxes payable, which are operating payables, mostly become due for settlement or payment within one year.

Long-term borrowings are borrowings from financial institutions and are exposed to liquidity risk.

Monetary receivables and payables denominated in foreign currencies and securities denominated in foreign currencies are exposed to the risk of foreign exchange rate fluctuations.

Derivative transactions are exposed to the risk of fluctuations in equity indices.

- 3) Management system for risks associated with financial instruments
 - a. Management of credit risk (such as risk associated with nonfulfillment of contracts by business partners)

 For operating receivables, the Group has sales staff to periodically monitor the status of major business partners and manage due dates and balances for each business partner in accordance with internal regulations and other rules, while striving to quickly notice and mitigate any concerns on the collection of claims that might be caused by a business partner's deteriorated financial conditions, etc.
 - b. Management of market price fluctuation risk
 - The Group strives to periodically obtain fair values, equity indices and other information to mitigate risks.
 - Management of foreign currency risk (fluctuation risk from foreign exchange)
 For monetary receivables and payables denominated in foreign currencies and securities denominated in foreign currencies, exchange rate fluctuations are monitored.
- d. Management of liquidity risk related to procurement of funds (risk of being unable to carry out payment by the payment deadline)

The responsible department conducts monitoring related to operation of funds at suitable times, and manages liquidity risk by means such as maintaining on-hand liquidity.

4) Supplementary explanation regarding fair values of financial instruments

Fair values of financial instruments include theoretical values that are reasonably calculated. Because these calculations are based on certain assumptions, applying different assumptions may result in different fair values.

(2) Matters relating to fair values of financial instruments

Amounts on consolidated balance sheet, fair values, and differences between them are as follows.

(million yen)

	Amounts on consolidated balance sheet	Fair values	Differences
(1) Operational investment securities	995	995	=
(2) Investment securities	7,588	7,588	=
Total assets	8,583	8,583	-
(1) Long-term borrowings (including current portion)	1,666	1,664	(1)
Total liabilities	1,666	1,664	(1)

- (Notes) 1. Notes on cash are omitted. "Deposits," "accounts receivable trade, and contract assets," "accounts payable other," and "income taxes payable" are omitted, because they comprise short-term instruments whose carrying amount approximates their fair value.
 - 2. Consolidated balance sheet amounts of shares, etc. with no market price
 Shares, etc. with no market price are not included in "(1) Operational investment securities" or "(2) Investment securities."

(million yen)

Classification	Amounts on consolidated balance sheet
Operational investment securities (Unlisted stocks, etc.)	9,171
Shares of subsidiaries and associates (Unlisted stocks)	3
Investments in capital of subsidiaries and associates (*)	104

^{(*) &}quot;Investments in partnerships" included in "investments in capital of subsidiaries and associates" are not subject to disclosure of fair value in accordance with paragraph 24-16 of the "Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement" (ASBJ Guidance No. 31, June 17, 2021).

(3) Fair value information by appropriate classification within the fair value hierarchy

The fair value of financial instruments is classified into the following three levels according to the observability and materiality of inputs used to measure fair value.

Level 1 fair value: Fair value measured using observable inputs, i.e. quoted prices in active markets for assets or liabilities that are the subject of the measurement

Level 2 fair value: Fair value measured using observable inputs other than Level 1 inputs

Level 3 fair value: Fair value measured using unobservable inputs

If multiple inputs are used that are significant to the fair value measurement, the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the level of the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

1) Financial instruments recognized at fair value on the consolidated balance sheet

(million yen)

C1:£4:	Fair values
Classification	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Operational investment securities	926	69	_	995
Investment securities
Available-for-sale securities	3,045	4,542	_	7,588
Total assets	3,972	4,611	_	8,583

2) Financial instruments other than those recognized at fair value on the consolidated balance sheet

(million yen)

Classification	Fair values
Classification	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Long-term borrowings (including current portion)	_	1,664	_	1,664
Total liabilities	_	1,664	-	1,664

(Note) A description of the valuation techniques and inputs used in the fair value measurements

Operational investment securities

The fair value of listed shares is based on the prices quoted by stock exchanges. As listed shares are traded in active markets, their fair value is classified as Level 1.

As the quoted prices of unlisted shares, etc. in active markets are unavailable, they are measured based on a certain valuation technique using observable inputs and classified as Level 2.

Investment securities

The fair value of listed shares is based on the prices quoted by stock exchanges. As listed shares are traded in active markets, their fair value is classified as Level 1.

Bonds are based on the price at which they were obtained from the counterparty financial institutions. Because bonds are not recognized as market prices in active markets, the fair value is classified as Level 2.

Long-term borrowings

Because the total amount of principal and interest is calculated based on the current price discounted at the expected interest rate when conducting new similar borrowings, it is classified as Level 2.

(Notes) 1. Other includes revenue from made-to-order software development on order based on contracts.

2. Other revenue in the Entertainment Business is primarily revenue related to blockchain games. These are transactions related to crypto-assets that satisfy the definition in the Payment Services Act (Act No. 59 of 2009), and are classified under paragraph 3 (7) of the Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition (ASBJ Statement No. 29). Therefore, they are not included in "Revenue from contracts with customers." In accordance with the Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition, the prices of user charges, sales of crypto-assets, and other income (including funds procured by Initial Exchange Offering (IEO)) are recorded as advances received, and are reclassified as revenue in stages as the crypto-assets are used within the game.

Other revenue in the Investment and Development Business is primarily revenue related to investments in capital of investment limited partnerships or other similar partnerships based on the Accounting Standard for Financial Instruments (ASBJ Statement No. 10), and is classified under paragraph 3 (1) of the Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition. Therefore, they are not included in "Revenue from contracts with customers."

(2) Useful information in understanding revenue from contracts with customers
Useful information in understanding revenue from contracts with customers is as presented in "Notes on Significant

Advances received are advances received relating to user charges and similar sources, and the ending balance includes 1,445 million yen related to blockchain games. Out of the revenue recognized in the fiscal year under review, the amounts of the items included in the balance of advances received as of the beginning of the fiscal year are immaterial.

In the fiscal year under review, the amounts of revenue recognized for performance obligations satisfied (or partially satisfied) during past periods are immaterial.

2) Transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations

The total amount of transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations and the period when recognition of revenue is expected are as follows. The Group applies the practical expedient when entering notes on transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations, and contracts other than contracts for business related to blockchain games that have an initially expected contract period of one year or less are not included in the subjects for notes. Notes to Non-Consolidated Financial Statements

Notes on Significant Accounting Policies

(1) Standards and methods for valuation of securities

- 1) Shares of subsidiaries and associates, and investments in capital of subsidiaries and associates Stated at cost using the moving-average method
- 2) Available-for-sale securities (including operational investment securities)

Securities other than shares, etc. with no market price

Stated based on the market price, etc. (Unrealized gains and losses are excluded from income and reported in a separate component of net assets. The cost of sales is calculated using the moving-average method.)

Shares, etc. with no market price

Stated mainly at cost using the moving-average method

(2) Standards and methods for valuation of inventories

Merchandise

Stated at cost using the moving-average method (determined based on the method of writing down book value in accordance with decreased profitability of assets)

Work in process

Stated at cost determined by the identified cost method (determined based on the method of writing down book value in accordance with decreased profitability of assets)

Supplies

Stated at cost determined by the last cost method (non-consolidated balance sheet amounts are determined based on the method of writing down book value in accordance with decreased profitability of assets)

(3) Depreciation & amortization method for non-current assets

1) Property, plant and equipment

The declining-balance method is applied.

However, facilities attached to buildings and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016, and buildings (excluding facilities attached to buildings) are computed using the straight-line method.

The main economic useful lives are as follows:

Buildings and structures 5 to 18 years Tools, furniture and fixtures 2 to 10 years

2) Intangible assets

The straight-line method is applied.

Software for internal use 5 years

(4) Standards for recognition of reserves

Allowance for doubtful accounts

For loss caused by uncollectible debt, an estimated amount of irrecoverable debt is provided as an allowance for doubtful accounts based on the historical write-off rate for ordinary receivables, and based on the recoverability of individual cases for specified receivables such as debt with a possibility of default.

(5) Standards for recognition of significant revenues and expenses

The Company recognizes revenues based on the following five-step model.

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract Step 5: Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation

Revenue recognition standards for each main revenue classification are as follows. The amounts of consideration promised are generally received within one year and do not include significant financing components.

1) Revenue from user charges

The Company offers smartphone games. While providing games to users for free, the Company provides the items used in these games for value. For these services, the Company judges that its performance obligations are satisfied when providing the services set forth for each item while users, or its customers, play games using the items obtained by consuming their currency in value. Therefore, the Company estimates the usage period of customers and recognizes revenue over such usage periods.

2) Revenue from revenue sharing

The Company collaborates with other companies to develop and operate smartphone games. For these services, the Company judges that its performance obligations are satisfied when it provides services such as development and operations to its client companies. Therefore, the Company recognizes revenue upon completion of relevant service provisions. In addition, the Company measures the consideration received from customers according to the amount of user charges.

(6) Accounting policy for translation of foreign currency assets or liabilities into Japanese yen

Monetary receivables and payables in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese yen at the spot exchange rate prevailing as of the balance sheet date, and translation differences are accounted for as profit or loss.

Notes on Accounting Estimates

(Recoverability of deferred tax assets)

- (1) Amounts recorded in the non-consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year under review Details are specified in "Notes on Tax Effect Accounting."
- (2) Information on the content of significant accounting estimates for identified items

Deferred tax assets are recorded for future deductible temporary difference for which it is considered that taxable income based on a future profit plan can be secured sufficiently and that it has recoverability.

Since recoverability of deferred tax assets relies on an estimate of future taxable income, if any change occurs in conditions and assumptions on which the estimate is based, the amounts of deferred tax assets and income taxes - deferred may be affected significantly in the financial statements for the following fiscal year.

In the estimation of a future profit plan, the Company refers to past records and uses the gradual decrease ratio of net sales of existing games and net sales after service launch of new games to make estimates.

Notes on Correction of Errors

During the current fiscal year, it was discovered that there was an error in the calculations when incorporating the share of comprehensive income of investment profit and loss for the investment funds of the Group in a past fiscal year, and that excessive net sales had been recorded. This error has been corrected.

The cumulative effects of these error corrections have been applied to the book value of net assets at the beginning of the current fiscal year.

As a result, in the balance at beginning of period in the statement of changes in equity, retained earnings brought forward were reduced by 82 million yen, and valuation difference on available-for-sale securities was reduced by 26 million yen.
